January 26, 1850. We have been working stoutly down stream against a violent and continuous south wind, and absolutely had to come to an anchor for thirty-six hours yesterday morning. We occupied ourselves with writing and shooting. After dark we lay down among the rocks, and waited for the gazelles and other wild animals to come down and drink. It was a curious scene; the stillness of the desert, the silence and darkness occasionally dispelled by the swift-sailing moon from behind light and shifting clouds, and the timid gazelle or hyena coming trotting down and snuffing the scent of the river. I shot a hyena, but unluckily being loaded with small shot, and the ground being very broken, he got away, after a howl which awakened every echo. As we came back in the jolly-boat the river was so boisterous that we were nearly upset several times. The men were bad and timid boatmen, and began invoking Ali, instead of rowing or punting. Some of our sailors were sea-sick! 21th....
